Perioperative Medicine and Management (PoMM)

The Scandinavian Society of Anesthesiology and Intensive Care Medicine (SSAI) co-ordinates an Inter-Nordic post-specialist training program in Perioperative Medicine and Management.

The first course started in Stockholm, Sweden, November 2014 with 18 participants. The second course will be open for applications on 19th September 2016 with a deadline for sending them in 31st October 2016. A maximum of 24 participants can be accepted and decision on acceptance will be announced 30th November. The first course will start in April 24th 2017

The aim of the program is to provide anesthesiologists that are especially interested in perioperative medicine and management, and involved in the planning and administration of the perioperative process, with new ideas of how to run and develop their organization and the tools to implement changes.

The program will focus on certain areas within "perioperative medicine", however knowledge in more basic and very detailed medicine will not be included as participants are already specialists and there are other programs available within SSAI that aim for advanced knowledge in specialized anesthesia. The main emphasis will be on methods of how to organize perioperative care to improve patient safety, satisfaction and quality of life, while utilizing resources in the most economical manner. The program will not cover general management issues, mostly relevant for heads of departments, as such courses are available elsewhere.

The program will create a Scandinavian network in perioperative medicine and management that will promote not only collaboration between participants but strengthen the position of perioperative care in the Scandinavian countries.

The program will focus on:

- Peri-operative medicine. How knowledge and implementation can improve patient safety and outcome through multiprofessional teamwork in the pre-, intra- and postoperative period.
- Peri-operative management. How coordination of the perioperative process can improve
